Scouting The Shops

with Sally

We never know what John is going to do next. Sometimes we wish we had a dependable husband like other women have.

This week it was an Indian Chief. It was bad enough the time that John brought home a baby panda, but this was worse. Yes, a real, live, Indian Chief that he picked up in Arizona somewhere while he was away on his vacation.

"Hello, darling," said John airily as he stepped off the bus. "Look what I brought you. This is Chief Storm-in-the-Face and he is going to visit us for a week."

And there, descending upon us, was a two-hundred-pound Indian draped in a dirty plaid blanket with dyed chicken feathers in his hair and a pigtail hanging down his back.

But his face was noble and impassive. He pierced us with an eagle glance and ejaculated "How!"

"How!" we returned the greeting feebly, wishing desperately that the new rumpus-room H. H. Smith was helping us build in the basement was finished. We shuddered as we pictured what the guest room would look like after this red-skin had camped in it. And just as the rugs and curtains had been freshly cleaned by Beeson Cleaners—

"Let's celebrate and take him to the Daly City theatre." John was bubbling over with excitement, like a kid with a new toy. "And how about introducing him to a little fire-water later at the Hilltop Lodge? You should see him do a war-dance!"

Our blood ran cold at the thought of Chief Storm-in-the-Face whooping and stamping through the center of town. We suggested tactfully that since we had a brand-new radio from Byrne Radio Store, perhaps the Chief would prefer to stay home and listen to some music.

"How!" snorted Chief Rain-in-the-Face with noble scorn. It was plain to see what he thought of pale-face squaws.

"Darling!" whispered John.

"JACK" ANDERSON TO VISIT DALY CITY

Daly City and Colma will stage a huge welcome next Wednesday noon for Congressman John Z. Anderson, who is scheduled to speak here early that afternoon.

Following a luncheon in his honor at the Colma Italian cafe, 7379 Mission street, Anderson, a member of the House Naval Affairs committee, will discuss the question of national defense for the hundreds of eager friends who are expected to greet his arrival.

The Republican congressman's appearance here will be a public one, and anyone interested in attending is cordially invited to do so. A nominal charge will be made for luncheon reservations, which may be had by telephoning RAndolph 3636. Those not attending the luncheon are invited to stop in later to hear Anderson's speech. There will be no charge.

Taking advantage of the congressional recess for the Democratic national convention, Anderson will arrive in California by plane on Sunday to visit the Eighth Congressional district, which he represents.

Due to the serious problems facing the nation at this time, Anderson plans to leave again for Washington, Saturday, July 20.

During his stay here, he will devote one entire day, Wednesday, July 17, to San Mateo county. His schedule for that day is as follows:

7:45 a. m.—Breakfast; Redwood City.

10:15 a. m.—Half Moon Bay.

12:15 p. m.—Luncheon and speech; Colma Italian cafe, 7379 Mission street, Daly City and Colma.

3 p. m.—Tea; San Mateo. Sponsored by Pro-America and Council of Republican Women.

6:30 p. m.—Dinner; Benjamin

Poland Still on Map

Although Austria and Czechoslovakia have been rubbed off European maps, United States commercial mapmakers are standing firm on Polish territory. The familiar pink area used to designate the former Republic of Poland will remain unchanged until the war in Europe is over, according to William Tauch, representative of a large map-making concern.

Japanese Claim Inventions

Japanese claim to have invented virtually all the new machines of the last 50 years, including the airplane, the glider, the submarine, and the gyroscope.

Broad Poultry Market

The American poultry farmer's best customer is the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, which last year reported purchases of 40,000,000 pounds of chicken and 90,000,000 dozen eggs, equal to two-thirds of a dozen for each man, woman and child in the country.

New Copper Discoveries

New discoveries of copper ore 150 miles southeast of Yellowknife, Alberta, flourishing subarctic mining camp, have been reported. They are expected to give added importance to the northern mineral fields, particularly in view of the war demand for basic minerals.

Apple Pie for Rubinoff

Mrs. Oliver Johnson of Helena, Mont., recalled that what Violinist Rubinoff particularly liked when she was a vocalist with his orchestra was apple pie. So when Mrs. Johnson greeted Rubinoff in Helena recently she carried with her a thick, juicy apple pie. "Wonderful, wonderful," said the violinist.

Fruit Combinations Enhance Warm Weather Menus

By BETTY BARCLAY

If your motto for the summer is "less time in the kitchen — more time in the sun" be sure to have a repertoire of excellent fruit desserts in your kitchen recipe file. Colorful fruit combinations add sparkle to warm weather menus. They have a refreshing quality which appeals to jaded appetites, and best of all they can be prepared in the twinkling of an eye.

To make fruit desserts appealing to the eye as well as the palate combine fruits with attractive color as well as flavor contrast. Be sure, too, that the pieces of fruit are comparatively the same size.

Canned Hawaiian pineapple gems which are spoon-size chunks of fruit cut from the juiciest part of sun-ripened pineapple, sliced peaches and blackberries with a dash of lemon juice make a fruit dessert worth knowing about.

This recipe for a summer gem cup calls for seasonal fresh and canned fruits and was created to inspire summer appetites.

Summer Gem Cup

6 fresh peaches
1—14 ounce can Hawaiian pineapple gems
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup blackberries

Peel and slice peaches and place in a bowl. Add pineapple gems and syrup from the can and lemon juice. Cover and place in refrigerator until thoroughly chilled. Serve in sherbet glasses. Garnish with berries. Add sugar to taste before fruit is chilled, if desired.

Yield: 6 servings.

Ancient Reptile Skeleton

The skeleton of a reptile that lived in the middle Permian period, 200,000,000 years ago, has been mounted in the Transvaal museum at Pretoria, South Africa. The work of mounting the skull, 26 vertebrae, shoulder girdle and the right hind leg required 20 years.

Beautiful Homes Offered For Sale

Beautiful new homes were offered for sale this week by three Daly City contractor-builders. Built by Daly City labor from lumber and materials purchased in Daly City, the homes are of modern design, yet cary the individual touch so often missing in this era of large-scale home construction.

George Hammer, 67 Willits street, has just completed an attractive new 5-room home at 162 Willits street, near the Vista Grande park and playground. The main features of this home are a large back yard, patio entrance, hardwood floors throughout, full tile, landscaped frontage and plenty of closet space. FHA terms bring this home well within the reach of the average family.

Lyal Ingersoll, 439 Crocker avenue, offers a modern 5-room home, recently completed at 451 Crocker avenue, featuring light, airy rooms throughout, hardwood floors, tile bath and many other modern conveniences.

W. E. Curtis, 1147 Brunswick street, presents a San Bruno home for sale this week. It is a five room bungalow with service porch. Separate two-car garage, and storage room are among its many other features. This home will make an ideal residence for the automobile commuter's family.

Milwaukee Screen Tests

Milwaukee motorists arrested on drunken driving charges get "screen tests." Defendants are required to walk a line four inches wide and 25 feet long painted on the floor of the sheriff's office, while a motion picture records the action.

Poodle's Moniker

A small poodle probably has the longest and most cryptic name of any dog in Boston. A woman brought the pup into a police station to get a license for "Joy Barker-Snozzle Drop-Kelley."

'Bachelor's Child'

Blonde brown-eyed Marjorie Hannan is heard in the role of Ruth Ann, one of the orphan 18-year-old twins of the serio-comic CBS radio serial, "Bachelor's Children." Born in Hamilton, Ohio, of stage parents, Marjorie worked at modeling, managing a tea room, and teaching gymnastics in order to finance herself through the University of Cincinnati, the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and the Schuster-Martin School of Drama. Just four years ago Marjorie was chosen for one of the twin roles in the popular daytime series heard on Columbia network Mondays through Fridays.

Even Christmas Simpler

Christmas tree decorations in Canadian homes will be simpler this year because of the war. Unless merchants can refill demands from stocks, ornaments will not be available. Most of them are made in Germany.

'Dressing-up' Onion

Farm experts are "dressing up" Louisiana's Creole onion by inbreeding and selection to improve its yield, quality and market value.

Nazi Nine Commandments

The new commandments which have been substituted by the Nazi government in place of the Ten Commandments are as follows: 1. Honor the Deity, the world foundation. 2. Honor thy ancestors and grandchildren. 3. Honor the great of thy people. 4. Honor thy parents. 5. Keep yourself clean. 6. Be loyal to your people. 7. Do not steal. 8. Be truthful. 9. Help the noble.

Forty-five Pounds of Pennies

Forty-five pounds of pennies were collected by members of the Swedish Evangelical Mission church at Atchison, Kan., this year. They were the savings from small banks of members. The money will go to missions in China.

Bullet's Ineffectiveness

The ineffectiveness of bullets shot into water is the result of the absorption of energy by the water. The amount that a lead bullet will flatten on impact with water varies with the striking velocity, the hardness of the lead and the angle of impact.

First Hospital Chair

According to the minutes of the Pennsylvania hospital for September 28, 1788, Thomas Affick, by many considered the superior of Philadelphia's famous cabinetmaker William Savery, presented the hospital with a curious mahogany chair for the easy removal of sick patients. The chair was valued at 12 pounds.

A Cake That's A Triumph

FOR most of us, making a cake that's a masterpiece—a triumph of flavor and delicacy—is a satisfying achievement, whether it's a fudge cake, rich and dark, or an Angel Food cake, snowy white and light as a feather.

It's more than a matter of luck, your success in cake making; it's choosing a good recipe and fine ingredients; blending those ingredients with a light and knowing hand; and baking the cake to bring out its finest flavor, to make it moist, light, golden-brown and delicious to the last crumb.

This "Black Angel Cake" is an unusually good chocolate cake that keeps well—if you can find a safe spot for hiding it! Choose, for your cake, the best ingredients, combine them with care, then trust the baking to the accurately controlled heat in the oven of your modern electric range. Uniform heat in the ovens of these ranges insures even baking and browning; there's no necessity for watching, no need for changing the position of the pans in the oven; just set the thermostat at the desired temperature, and preheat the oven.

Black Angel Cake
(Makes two 9-inch layers)

Part 1

- 2½ squares (2½ ounces) unsweetened chocolate
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup sweet milk
- 1 egg (well beaten)

Melt chocolate on surface unit of electric range, with switch turned to third position. Gradually add remaining ingredients and cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens (about 5 minutes). Cool.

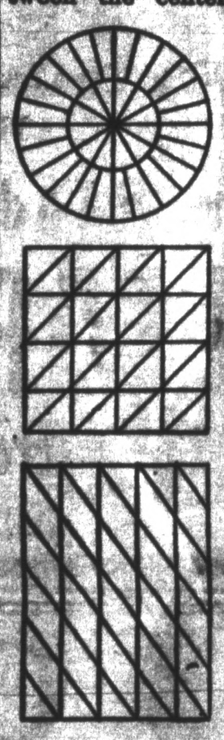
Part 2

- ½ cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs (well beaten)
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups cake flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup sweet milk

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually. Blend in beaten eggs and vanilla, and beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add to the first mixture, alternately with the milk. Fold in cooled chocolate paste. Beat well. Pour batter into 2 greased, 9-inch layer pans, and bake in a moderate oven with the electric thermostat set at 350°, for about 30 minutes. Remove from pans, cool, and frost with Seven Minute Icing.

Cut Angel Food Cakes or Sunshine Cakes with a silk thread, or pull the cake gently apart with two forks.

When cutting a round cake to serve a number of guests, cut an inside circle, first, half way between the center of the cake and the outer edge. Then cut 12 pie-shaped pieces from the inside circle, and 24 pieces from the outside circle.



Cut a square cake into 16 equal squares, as illustrated, then cut across the cake, diagonally, to divide each square into triangular pieces.

Divide a rectangular cake into 5 equal, lengthwise strips. Then, starting at one corner, cut through the strips diagonally.

If a bit of egg yolk gets into the whites, it may be removed with a piece of the shell, or with the corner of a damp towel.

To hold an angel food tin in place while the cake cools, turn a funnel upside down, and insert the end into the tube of the pan.

Remember that a bit of salt is needed in cakes to bring out the flavor of the other ingredients.

Napoleon's Burial Place

Napoleon III is buried at Farnborough, England. Previously, he was buried in St. Mary's mortuary chapel, Chiselhurst, England, where he died, but in 1887 the Empress Eugenie caused to be built St. Michael's Roman Catholic church, in the crypt of which were buried the emperor, the prince imperial and the empress.

Buzzard Migration

The annual southward migration of buzzards was so great through San Gorgonio pass in California this year that the birds blacked out the sky. More than 4,000 of the birds were estimated to have made the mass flight south through the pass.

New It's a Malady

School children who play "hookey" are prompted to do so by an uncontrollable malady, in the opinion of C. T. Stewart, assistant director of census and attendance, Atlanta, Ga. So, instead of inflicting punishment, efforts will be made to discover the cause and take suitable curative steps.

Mahogany's Scientific Name

The scientific name for mahogany is "Swietenia." This name was given it by Nicholas Jaquin of Leyden, who was sent to the West Indies by Francis I, of Austria, to study the flora of that region. The name honors Geraard van Swieten, botanist and physician, also of Leyden.

Scouting the Shops

"Please be careful. He's so sensitive. The last of the Vanishing Americans and all that—"

We privately wished he would vanish a lot quicker, as we set about getting a meal together. He had already devoured a box of chocolates we had bought from Edwards Drug Store and was just starting in on a fresh cocoanut cake from Geneva Bakery, when we caught him in the pantry.

We have never been confronted with a more delicate situation. But Chief Rain-in-the-Face took it in his stride.

"How!" he remarked impassively, and cut himself a slice of watermelon from Westlake Market.

We longed for a tommyhawk as we broiled a sirloin steak from Farmers Market, added some fresh spinach from Lucca Ravioli's for the Indian's dinner, and set out some ripe strawberies from Daly City Cut Rate.

We fried a couple of slices of ham from Robertson's Egg Store for good measure—we already were familiar with his appetite. And all the time we gloated in the thought of how nice the scalp of Chief Storm-in-the-Face would look dangling from the chandelier.

That Indian ate and ate and ate. Vainly we tried to interest John in the lovely homes that both George Hammer and Lyal Ingersoll are offering for sale this week. But John's mind was elsewhere.

We changed to the subject of food without much success. The exciting news that the Central Creamery is serving delicious hot lunches for only 30c merely reminded John of how the Indians grind dried corn.

The rest of the evening went the same way. John was entranced with his protege.

"Look at those muscles rippling under that polished bronze skin," he whispered admiringly. "And watch the panther-like grace of his movements! Indians always walk in a straight line, you know," he informed us.

Maybe so. But not this Indian. It was six o'clock the next morning before John missed him.

"That's funny," he said sleepily. "Chief Storm-in-the-Face isn't around and his bed hasn't been slept in. He probably isn't used to these softening conveniences of cultural life."

But when John went out into the yard, Chief Rain-in-the-Face was NOT sleeping on the ground, wrapped nobly in his blanket.

Instead, the garage door stood wide open and within was only dust and the bare board floor—our new car was gone forever.

We have never heard again from either the car or Chief Storm-in-the-Face. But one day we did receive a post-card from Powktano, Arizona. Written on it in bold letters was the single word "How!"

Towers of Silence

The tower of silence is the name applied to structures built by the Parsees for the disposal of their dead. They are towers about 40 feet high called dakhmas. Below the top of the wall is built a floor of iron grating and upon this the bodies are placed until by exposure to the elements and birds of prey the flesh is entirely removed from the bones and they fall into a pit below.

Lets 300,000 Mosquitoes Bite Him To Find Perfect Insect Repellent

Young Research Worker on University Staff Real "Iron" Man

WHILE other people try to keep away from mosquitoes during the summer months, Philip Granett, young "iron" man at Rutgers University, goes to a great deal of trouble to get them to bite him. He has endured more than 300,000 bites to help make it possible for other folks to escape insect annoyance.

Granett is one of a group of scientists at Rutgers who, under a grant from the National Carbon Company, are studying insect reactions to various chemicals. They have been working on this one problem for five years. As a result, they have already succeeded in making a repellent lotion that not only prevents mosquitoes from biting but keeps them at a distance.

Granett's job in this research has been that of a human guinea pig. He has tried out on himself the hundreds of chemical combinations produced by the laboratory staff to learn which solution would work best.

His method has been to take a sample of the chemical to be tested, stand in a mosquito bog, roll up sleeves and trousers, and apply a measured amount of the repellent to one arm and one leg. The other arm and leg have been left unprotected. Then the number of bites received on the untreated parts of his body were counted.

Bites were counted until Granett got one on the arm or leg having the repellent coating. As soon as that happened, he noted the time that had elapsed since the test began, and the experiment was over. His purpose, of course, was to find a chemical combination that would extend the protection time as long as possible.

Philip Granett

Day after day Granett has gone through this routine, trying out one chemical after another. During the summer he has stood in swamps under a boiling sun. In winter has been bitten by mosquitoes especially raised in the Rutgers laboratories at New Brunswick, N. J. Every one of the thirty-five kinds of mosquitoes found in New Jersey has had a chance to feed on him, Granett says. Along with them are many others of the 350 varieties that exist in different parts of the United States.

Granett's endurance has been finally rewarded. The laboratory staff reports that it has developed a lotion that withstands all tests better than any other. Not only does this substance offer protection against mosquitoes, but it keeps away gnats, sand fleas, black flies, deer flies, chiggers and similar pests. One application may last as long as three hours.

Pie and Coffee—The Boston Way!

HERE'S a dessert course in the best Back Bay tradition—Boston Cream Pie—and coffee, of course! Coffee's in the filling as well as in the cups—a new variation that makes a coast-to-coast favorite of a New England tradition.

Your coffee to drink will be single strength, but make it double-strength for flavoring (that means two heaping tablespoons of coffee to each measuring cup of water) and then go on from there with the following recipe. It's simple to make a simply delicious version of a favorite dessert you'll want to serve often—with a cup of coffee.

Coffee Cream Pie

2¼ cups milk
⅓ cup ground coffee
⅔ cup sugar
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 8-inch sponge layers
confectioners' sugar

Scald milk with coffee in top of double boiler over hot water. Strain through fine sieve or cheese cloth. Combine and mix sugar, flour and salt; add slightly beaten eggs. Add hot coffee milk mixture and return to double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened; cover and cook 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat, add vanilla. Cool. Spread between sponge layers and sprinkle top with confectioners' sugar. 8 servings.

PEGGY

Doris Dudley, seen most recently on Broadway with John Barrymore in "My Dear Children," is now heard regularly over CBS network in the new Wednesday night comedy dramas, "Meet Mr. Meek." Miss Dudley plays Mr. Meek's daughter, "Peggy."

Seventeenth Century Employers

Believing that it was necessary to threaten employees with hunger in order to get more work from them, Dutch and English economic literature in the Seventeenth century stressed the necessity of lowering wages to the minimal level of subsistence, says a study of The Evolution of the Classical Wage Theory, issued by the Columbia University Press.

Eagles Plan Huge Whist Party

More than one hundred tickets have already been sold for a huge whist party which Colma Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848, F. O. E., will sponsor Monday evening at Eagles hall. Playing will begin at 8 p. m.

The local aerie of Eagles expects this to be one of the most successful whists this summer. Large cash prizes will make the event an interesting one for card fans, according to Melford Battye and John Craig, who head the committee in charge.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Francis Bacon's Hobby

Francis Bacon, the essayist, spent his spare time devising new styles in men's clothes. He made 1,300 drawings of freakish raiment and had tailors make some of them up. When no friends of his would wear any of the wild and giddy costumes, he hired men to put them on and promenade the London streets.
